

CUROSENSE PRIVACY POLICY

These terms apply from March 2, 2022, and indefinitely. When the Customer visits www.curosense.se ("the Website"), Curosense automatically receives and stores information from the Customer.

The information we collect from the Customer may be used to:

Contact the Customer via email or phone number (filled in the contact form)

- Improve our website
- Improve our customer service and the Customer's need for assistance
- Disclosure to third parties

At the time of order, the Customer will be prompted to provide certain personal data for the order to be processed. The Customer is responsible for ensuring that the provided data (address, phone, email, etc.) is correct and complete and is responsible for any incorrectly entered data. Curosense is the personal data controller for the processing of the Customer's personal data and is thus responsible for ensuring that the processing takes place in accordance with applicable law.

The Customer has the option to voluntarily enter data (address, phone, email, etc.) into the Curosense mobile app. The Customer is responsible for ensuring that this data is correct and complete and is responsible for any incorrectly entered data.

We take a variety of security measures to protect your personal information. We use advanced encryption methods to protect sensitive information transmitted over the Internet. Only employees who need to perform specific services are granted access to personally identifiable information. The computers, servers, etc., used to store personally identifiable information are stored in a secure environment.

We use cookies to improve access to the Website and identify returning visitors. In addition, our cookies enhance the user experience by tracking and targeting user interests. Our use of cookies is not linked to personally identifiable information on the Website in any way.

We use the email address you provide to send information and updates regarding your customer relationship with us; occasional newsletters, related product information, etc.

You can contact us at any time at support@curosense.se to request information about the personal data we have stored about you or if you wish for us to delete your personal data.

By using the App, our Website and our contact forms, you agree to our privacy policy. We reserve the right to make changes and updates to our privacy policy.
